The first, that it was inexpedient and unadvisable to recommend the election of the missionary bishops. Taylor and Thoburn as full bishops, was promptly adopted. So was No. 2, declaring that the present bishops, although some of them are so far advanced in years as to render it hardly probable that they will he able to do full work during the ensuing quad-rennium, are all still effective.

conserning No. 3, reporting that after a careful consideration of the whole subject the committee thought it "not necessary at this time to elect any more bishops," S. P. Wilson, of Oregon, protested against hasty action and wanted the report made a special order for to-morrow. Dr. J. B. Maxfield, of Omaha, said that the report had been thoroughly alred in committee, and it also was presently adopted. Report No. 4, declining to make recommendation as to a colored bishop, was adopted without protest from any of the colored delegates, after Dr. Buckley had reminded the Conference how the Church took care eminded the Conference how the Church took care of its colored members and how some of the New-York Methodists had boycotted one or two hotels which excluded colored delegates in 1883.

In the last report was this recommendation: "That all of the Episcopal residences be retained and that there be added betroit, the state of Washington, Europe and China or Japan; that from these the bishops may choose in the order of their seniority, provided that any bishop who shall reside in Europe, China or Japan, or other foreign country, shall be a missionary bishop." This was adopted after the clauses referring to the foreign bishops had been stricken out. Two residences are created with no bishops to fill them. This, however, serves as a sop to Detroit and the Northwest Coast and offers an opportunity to the present bishops to vacate an unpleasant residence. The conference may yet elect a missionary bishop, aithough it is not likely to do so.

A resolution was sent to the Judiciary Committee providing that so much of paragraphs 55 to 64 inclusive, as were approved as constitutional by the adoption of the Goucher amendment last Thursday, be printed in the discipline hereafter, substantially in form as recommended by the report of the constitutional commission. This resolution, if adopted, would practically nullify the recent achievement of the laymen.

A bare minority of the active delegates are anxious to get home as soon as possible and desire to hurry the adjournment. It was decided this morning to suspend the call of conferences for memorials after however, found necessary and 163 voted for the adjournment, with only 211 opposed.

The newly organized Coney Island Athletic Club fast night gave its second "athletic exhibition," as it calls the prize fights given in its clubbouse, before a crowd of men numbering about 2,000. George Godfrey, a negro, and "Joe" Lannon, both of Boston, were the contestants last night for puglistic honors, and incidentally for the purse of $3,000 which was offered by the club. Of this amount the loser was to receive $800. Both men are heavy-weights of considerable reputation and the match was for the heavy-weight championship of the East. aThree men gained admission to the Greene County jail at Eataw, Ala., vesterday morning, on the plea that they had with them a prisoner.
